EDITORIAL CURRESPONDENCE OF THE SENTINEL. Madison, Feb 16th, 1855. Before I proceed to the day's work, I follow lustrious precedents, and, "rise to a personal explanation." Some one has sent me a Valsutine' a real, live Valentine! one which touches no to the very midriff. As I am utterly numble to imagine the writer, and, by the terms of the communication, not allowed guess the name, I our only, in this public way, make my profound est bow, and assure the author that I am ready o perform, all and singular, my duty in the semises; this paragraph being invested with all the gravity of the communication which cal-led it forth; and a little exercise of the imaginaion surrounding it with all the appropriate embleios. I trust that my correspondent will say nothing about this, my reply to any one, but

The House will come to order In Secute, this morning, Mr. Bashford presen ted a petition for a liquor law, and Mr. Taylor both petitions and remonstrances in regard to repealing the charter of Sheboygan Falls. ed quantities, and it was finelly ordered to a 3d reading, in effect the same as Mr. Harvey's subsitute. Mr. McGerry spoke against it at some length, arguing that it would prevent persons from buying a farm for each of their children. in Assembly, potitions were presented:

By Mr. Howard, from school dist in Magnolis. By Mr. McIndoe, two for state roads By Mr. Abbot, for liquor law; by Mr. Pratt, do; by Mr. Virgin, do.

By Mr. DeWolf, to change name of J. A. Bitsch to J. A. Butsch.

By Mr. Colley, to divide Milwaukee Co. (To make the city a separate county-signed by some fifty names, all written by two or three persons. These politions—there are two or three papers—are handed to Mr. Colley by Mr. Lavis ) Mr. Vilus claimed the floor for a personal explauntion in regard to an article in the Journal, in which it was implied that he made an erroneou statement vesterday as to the course opraned be the Bank in which the Treasurer made his deposits, in returning bills on State Banks for redemotion. He had not said that the Bank called for specie, but it had called for redemption in New York drafts, which amounted to the same thing. He repeated his statement that this Bank dul take up the state bills, and paid out a depreciated currency. The above diggings, from which I date this, in new gold field, lately discovered. It is situaed about 35 miles from Fort Alexander, in a westerly direction. About the time I intended starting from Forest Creek for the Avoca diggings, very good accounts came from this place, so we changed our intentions and came here.-When we first arrived here, about a month since there were very few people here and only one store, and a month before that there was not a soul here; the diggings had not been discovered. But a wonderful change has taken place since.-There is an enormous population here at present and hosts of new arrivals make their appearance daily. A continuous line of tents, closely packed for about two miles, forms the main street and b.bind innumerable clusters of similar habitations line the various branch gullies. The pop ulation here at present is estimated at from 30 to 40,000 souls. On the main street the principul places of business are situated. There are 25 or 30 betels, two theatres, concert sooms from Com. on Legislative Expenditures, reported | lowling salours, shooting galleries, billiard rooms suction marts, stores and shops of every kind co afinitum, and last, but not least in number, are the sly greg-shops. These diggins are extensive, and some of the that and gullies have proved very rich. Numbers here have met with attraordinary good tuck—several large nuggets have been found, one weighing forty pounds, was found a few weeks since in seven feet sinking. A Judicious Movement.

Judge Vilue of the Assembly offixed a rest lution yesterday, which was adopted, requesting the State Pressurer to discontinue depositing these ate funds in any banking institution. It seems hat the Treasurer has been in the habit of depositing with one of the Madison banks and giving those who have demands against the state a cleck upon such bank. A large amount of the me say thus deposited is our own state currency. The bank, in paying the checks, reserves the note of our state hanks, and pays out foreign bills. It then sends home the bills of the state banks and draws the specie ou them it seems. If this b se Judge Vilus of the Assembly officed a result then settle nome the bills of the state banks and draws the specie on them it seems. If this b so, it gives the bank so favored an undue advant go, and at the same time withdraws our home purecey from home circulation, and substitutes is its place the more unsafe currency of other states. We can see no propriety in making these de ice-ites, and consider the resolution a very judic ous and timely one. The Treasury is the place were the funds should be kept. We have bought a fee, and books, and hired men to sleep there and guard it, and it would appear the obvious duty of the Treasurer to keep the public moneys it his own nosesmon.

Our readers will bear in mind the insu ing language addressed by the department the other day to the Assembly, because that body has the temerity to make some inquiries respecting the deposition of the public moneys. Verily, the amount of outraged innocence and virtuous indignation about the caulto in very surprising and dignation about the capitol is very surprising and seems to be rapidly increasing. Since writing the article in yesterday's paper, in relation to this subject, we have to ken some pains to secretain the facts in the ca and of one thing we are satisfied—that injuiting was done to the institution with which the Treasurer has made his deposites. He selected the State bank for this purpose; and are only vinced that the statements, made on the flor of the Assembly, that the bank has been accustomed to retain the paper of the Wisconsin banks, obtained from the Treasurer, and set it home for redemption, thus inflicting a two fold injury, by withdrawing our best currancy complication to the injury of the bankses of the State, and by extorting specie from his passed the bill from the Assembly, results on the flor of persons claimed as Fugitive Staves.

The improvement consists in the arrangement of Siding or Flooring machine in which the saw (which is circular) cuts, when the carriage on which the lumber is placed to be sawed, moves in either direction, whether forward or back, or in fact there is no backward movement, as what tirely dispensed with in this. When the cant, or other machines for sawing siding, when by an in genious setting apparatus the timber is set forward the required distance, and the feed motion is reversed and the carriage moves back to its first position, the saw cutting as it moves. The timber, by the setting apparatus which is selfacting, is again set and the feed motion again changed, and this continues till the timber or cant is sawed up, when it stops setting and thus prevents damage from any inattention, or care sness on the part of the attendant.

The setting apparatus and feed works are very ingeniously constructed, and produce perfect uniformily in the thickness of the lumber sawed. surpassing all other sawing machines in that respect. There are three of these machines now in operation-one at the mills of N. Ludington & Co., at Little Bay de Noquet; one in the mills of Ludington & Co., at Oconto, and one at Janesrille, in A. K. Norris' milla.

One of these machines will cut 15,000 super ficial feet of siding or flooring in tenhous withe obtained at the Pollee Court, or the office of out extra exertion. One of them has cut with ease six pieces of siding, 14 feet long,in one minute. The improvement is not to be confined solely to the saving of siding or flooring from cants, but is applicable to sawing lumber directly from the log. Mr. Youngs claims that his machine will cut 75 per cent. mo e lumber than any other machine in use. Ought we not to be proud of Milwaukee mechanics? Milwankee, Feb. 17, 1855.

A great drawback to the prosperity of these diggings is the want of water. There is no water of any consequence within four miles. It has to be brought from the Deep Creek, and sells here for 25 cents per bucket. All the washing dirt has to be carted to the Creek, the charge for this is five dollars per load of forty bucket Of course none but pretty rich stoff will pay tor carting. Large piles of washing stuff have been accumulated in anticipation of rain.

Young's Sawing Machine.

Mesera Editor I see by the last Scientific Smerican that a Petent has been granted to PINNEY Youngs, of Milwaukee, for an improvement in Sawing Machines. Being somewhat acquainted with the improvement, and knowing the inventor to be a very worthy, industrious and ingenious man, whose ingenuity is to redound in some measure to the credit of Milwaukee, perhaps a passing word, descriptive of this valuable improvement, will not be inappropriete.

The improvement consists in the arragement of

Siding or Flooring machine in which the saw (which is circular) cuts, when the carriage on which the lumber is placed to be sawed, moves in either direction, whether forward or back, or intermission, until Wednesday morning. The depth of snow, on a level, cannot be less than two and a half feet, and the labor of break og roads has been severe, and business has been to a cettain extent suspensed. The oldest inhabitant tells us that since he has been in the country he has never known a heavier storm.—Groen Bay Advocate, Feb. 15. n fact there is no backward movement, as what called gigging back in other muchines, is entirely dispensed with in this. When the cant, or timbor, is placed upon the carriage and the machino put in motion, it feeds past the saw, as in other machines for sawing siding, when by an in genious setting apparatus the timber is set for ward the required distance, and he feed motion is reversed and the carriage moves back to its est position, the saw cutting as it moves. The imber, by the setting apparatus which is selfacting, is again set and the feed motion again changed, and this continues till the timber of cant is sawed up, when it stops setting and thus prevents damage from any inattention, or carespess on the part of the attendant.

The setting apparatus and feed works are very ingeniously constructed, and produce perfect uniformity in the thickness of the lumber sawe surpassing all other sawing machines in that respect. There are three of these machines now in operation-one at the mills of N. Ludington d Co., at Little Bay de Noquet; one in the mille of Ludington & Co., at Oconto, and one at James ville, in A. K. Norris' mills.

One of these machines will cut 15,000 superficial feet of siding or flooring in tenhours, withe obtained at the Police Court, or the office of out extra exertion. One of them has cut with case six pieces of siding, 14 feet long,in one minute. The improvement is not to be confine solely to the saving of siding or flooring from cants, but is applicable to sawing lumber directly from the log. Mr. Youngs claims that his ma chine will cut 75 per cent, mo e lumber than any other machine in use. Ought we not to be proud of Milwaukee mechanics?

Sleighing in New York.

Our sleighing, bad as it is for whosis, is really becaming a back-neyed subject; but, however severely we may use it, there is title danger of running it leto the ground while the temperature remnins as per last suivices. That temperature was mild enough on Saturday to set the snow to a packing, yet cold enough to keep it from running away; and so the slippery stuff in Broadway, which had on Friday no more cohesion than the Democratic party, was condensed into a smooth and firm bed for runners, and gave, throughout Saturday and Sanday, the best sleighing of the season.

test, musically-merry seems of enjoyment that we have ever witnessed.

Yesterday, though the weighing was floe, there were few persons abroad. Probably the repentance induced by the knocks, and thumps, and crowdings of the previous day, was snough to keep the majority at home. The stage-vierghe, of course, were not out. Private vehicles accommodated a few, who braved the public opinion of the town, and had their fun in spite of Sunday. The closing of the rum shope was another cooler. Most of those who are willing to take Sunday for sleigh-riding, generally take something else, and to drive around all day, without stopping to drive, he are act of self denial not to be endured—except with a well-falled pocket pistol at call. So from a perfect earthquake of noise and confession on Saturday, we glided into a commentably quiet Sunday; closing with a state of temperature which gave promise of a continuous of our excellent sleighing.—N.
